INSURANCE PROTECTION YOU CAN TRUST

At Counce O'Hara we understand that human errors occur. Unfortunately, in engineering and manufacturing rectifying a mistake can be expensive. Whether it's an error in design calculations or flaws in a product design, a mistake could cause big problems for a business, including loss of revenue and the loss of potential future orders. That's when our comprehensive insurance for engineering contractors can help.

Robust policies specific to different risks

Engineering contractor insurance will cover you against the risks and exposure you face in your job. At Counce O'Hara, we recognise that a rail engineer faces different risks to those of an engineer in the offshore oil and gas sector.

The variations in risk are why our policies have been written specifically to accommodate your circumstances.

Protecting most engineering professions

Counce O'Hara offer a range of covers for most technical engineering professions, including:

- Rail engineers
- CAD designers
- Mechanical engineers
- Design engineers
- Field engineers
- Construction workers
- Health & Safety engineers
- Systems engineers
- Offshore Oil & Gas engineers
- Electrical engineers
- Technical officers
- ... and many more!

Covered in just a few clicks

Our innovative online quoting system enables you to build a personalised quote in a matter of minutes.
